This article is about the witcher in The Hexer. For the Redanian elf, see Chireadan.

Chireadan was a witcher from the School of the Wolf, specifically trained to deal with renegade witchers.

Biography

After Count Falwick and Herbolth accused Geralt of the murder of Dermot Marranga before the Council of Witchers, Chireadan was sent to take possession of Geralt's medallion and swords—and to kill him if he refused.

When he found Geralt, he informed him of the charges and his intentions. Geralt refused and told Chireadan to go to Aedd Gynvael first and find out the truth of the matter by talking to the sorcerer Istredd. Chireadan, however, wanted to test Geralt in combat, having heard he was invincible. The duel was easily won by Geralt. Chireadan then agreed to go to Aedd Gynvael, with Geralt warning him to be careful, as he was too hot-headed.
